Notes for the ministring of Purgations.

The tymes most convenient to Purge with Electuaties, is when the Moone is placed in Cancer; with Potions, when the is placed in Scorpius; and with Pylles, when the is placed in Pisces, the body being before prepared, as is convenient.

Corres in the Purgations which works gently, and Glyters, they may be ministred indifferently at all tymes without any great inconvenience.

Sie Lorge of Lorme, when the Moone abydeth in figno

Bargarilmes are best bled when the Poone is placed in

Aries of in Cancer.

Luity as for the foure natural Powers, serung for nourystement: it woulde be noted, that the vertue Attractive is best comforted, when the Moone is in a fyery Signe, as in Aries, Leo, or Sagittarius: the vertue Retentiue, when the Moone is in an earthy Signe, as exther in Taurus, Virgo, or Capricornus: the vertue Digestiue, when the Moone is in an avery Signe, as in Gemini, Libra, or Aquarius: and the vertue Expussive, when the Moone is in Cancer, Scorpius, or in Pisces.

Chyrurgian here, in steede of long discourse
This Figure is prefixed, thy hand to guyde.

And rule thy worke, so shalt thou seldome slide.
And since upon thy hand, thy knife, and skill,

A declaration of the dispositions of the foure Quarters of this

1. Of the Winter quarter.

The Adronomicall Climter Duarrei, and fyst part of this perie, by our English vival account, beginneth as the find of the Humes entraunce into the Cycle minute of the fyst begree of Capricorne, which is on the rif. day of December, bern bern Bunday, Annol 1891, betweene, illi, end. v, a clocke in the after moone, as which typic the Humes in his greatest distance, and farther removed from our verticall popul, commonly called Innit; and to this Duarter shall continue dupill ther. day of Parth next enlaying, which is in the peers of our revenition. 1892, where about with bource after nodes the Allinter hall ceasing and the Hyping take place.

The proper qualities of this Divarter, according to natures inclination, are coide and mouthly cleane contrary to the qualities and properties of Sommer. And even those thyinges which Sommer bryingeth footh and nootheth, Minter with his frezen continuance quite vatheth and veltroyeth. Minter fenderly in the lapse and invest of Evers, and trearbes to the coetes; and driveth in the natural heate of many bedy jets the invarie partes; whereupon the recess of Plantes are most commendable in Minter to any Jificall vies, and mans stomacke and direction stronger and lustice noth, then in other leasons when naturall heate is disperied, and suffect into the extreme and outwards partes.

But where as this and other feature by attrimes barry and begenerate from their preudar qualities. I am here induced to fet downe, that the prefent collinter well not do is, albeit it may fall out at the beginning somewhat variable and waverrapie, with loude and long windes, scattered show, and sleery species; for generally, and for the greatest part, both at the beginning, mignets, and endors, I have that the well prough the less that the sametymes of the control of differnverately boufferous and wondy, and more rayny otherwhyles then the Dufbandman will drinke commentent. The world I fuspect it, that this Minter well being with it over many fogges, and nop. forme contagious vapoures, ftynking muftes, folthy fumes, and rotten finelles, which may engender loathfome difeales, and be occasion of death amongst men, and also procure the murrayne, or rotte a. mongit Beaftes and Cattle.

But the generalland ordinary griefes lyke to afflict mans hody this Quarter, are Reimnes, Catarres, Coughes, Poles, Boarines, Scrbbes, Itchinges, Fluces of fimory fortes, wanderpng flegmaticke Feurus, the Falling Sicknes, Stitches in the lydes, rawnes and intecillitie of Stomacke, Difficultie of breathung, thormes of ingate, the Collicke, the Stone, the Strangury, payne and Iwim-ming in the Dead, fount Aches, Goutes, and fuch lyke.

Wherefore forto prewent such griefes Its best this tyme to vie Such meates, and broathes, as heate, and dry, All crude meates to refuse. For Flegme, and watery humors now Domoft of all abounder and the state of the state of ### Frende. 1592?

2. Of the Spring time.

7 ben the Sume hath made his mogreffe, and finished his course from the lower part of the figuifier, thosow the three Opemall or Minter fignes, at his approch and entraunce into the beginning of the full degree of Aries, he buyingeth on, and heginneth the Spaing: which falleth sut this peers the. r. of March being freday, a lette after biff. a clocke at apate, forthen is the Aequinoctial vernal, and even then the Simin aryleth full at. vi. a clocke in the mountagand letter inter at via clocke in the eventure t to equallying the artificiall day and night throughout the worlde. Anothis part of the prece continueth untill the.ri. day of June, being Sunday, nert folowyna.

This featon is naturally dispoted to heate and mayifure, not videmperately, or prequally, but even temperately, equally, and moverately, being neither to hot as Sommes, not to colve as Minter, var fo chemocable and mutable as Baruckt: whereupon the great Philirion Hyppocrates tearmeth it the most healthlome and halforne typne of the whole yeers, not onely to continue the body in health, and to keepe it free from tifeales not pet purchafed, but also to cleare and ryove the fame of any ficknesses gotten infege; for even now is famply the best tyme of the years for Bloodlettyng, Durning, Bathyng, Sweating, or bling any other medicinable meanes whatfocuer, which I would with every lifealed perfon duely to confloct, and in no wyle to neglect, of he belie speedy, or easie recourse of his ariefes.

But concerning the present inclination and temperature of the weather this Quarter, I gather alwell by the confunction going before, othe figure of the Spring, as by other more perticuler circumstances dealorn from the varity motions and afpectes of the Planettes: that the beginning is lyke to proue Ellinterlyke and loundy, with fundey colde, cloudy, and close dayes, yea with lone incluy, fleety, and tempettious dayes. Afterwardes towardes mid Apppil, not to boytterous, but styll by fittes consewhat inconstant, with so-Dayne

A Prognostication,

navne hewers, and color wying breathings sometyines. But as for May, I would not but it will prove feethe and merry enough, bronging good force of fagre and cleve lunthyning dayes, and confequently proving a comfortable and loyfull hewe of the encreale of Graffe, Flowers, Come, and other fruites of the earth.

The ly-knelles most lyke to molect and grieve mankynde this Munter, according to the learning of Hyppocrates, and other learning of Hyppocrates, and other learning diphilitions, are these: Phienites, mannes, and other learlings fighness, dioody Fluves, Anginacs, and other lwellinges in the thoate. Joannes, Rewines, Coughes, Catarres, Lepolie, Scaibes, blevous Bushiles, John aches, griefes about the Phyphife, Strangaries, the Stone, Apoplexies, Connulsions of the Sundwes, and such lybe: which may generally be accompted the most opinary and common diseases for the time, poliboseure otherwise, and biedes for the time, poliboseure otherwise, and fireh lybes accompted the most opinary and common diseases for the time, poliboseure otherwise, and biedes for the time, poliboseure otherwise, and fireh possible in quibet in quibet in amely, that any diseases may be engended at any, of at all tymes.

If then thou wilt preserve thy felfe. And keepe thy body well: Drinke more, but eate lesse then before, Yet fasting doth not well. And feaftyng hurtetheuen as much, This temperate tyme doth craue In labour, meate, drynke, fleepe and play, A temperate ayme to haue. Withallyse looking meates, and broathes: And medicines vf neede be, For now do humors most abounde. But Blood especially. Wherefore yf openyng of a Vayne May worke thy body eafe. Now is the tyme, by Philickes ayde To rydde th'of thy difeate.

Frende. 1 39'24 3. Of the Sommer season,

De Soume having finither the Spring with his passage through I the iffi pernall fignes Aries, Taurus, Gemini, beginneth the Sommer quarter at his entramer into Cancer, which falleth out this peere the ri. bay of Ilme, being Sunday, about bi. a clocke in the after noone : at which instant the Gunne hauyng his greatest verlination to the north from the lyne Aequinoctial producth solthirium aftiuum, caufing with us the longett day and thorrest night in the peere. And this Sommer thall from thence commue butyll the. rff nay of September, bepng Quelbay, that the Sunne entreib into Libra,

This thirde Quarter, according to natural bispolities, is hot and my, and of complexion chollerycke, which humog of Chelev encreafeth more now then in any other leafon. lyke as in Minter the contrary humos, namely fleame beareth the finay, as is to fore couched in the our place. Mom is Weate at the higheft, the Cal vines loweft, and calmen, the Seas moit palitible, and quiet, flowers e fruites pleafanteft, and sayutieft, the Byrdes moit melodious and to full, the Bees mod bulle, and mellifluous, Gerpentes most abundaunt and dangerous; finally, nowis Pans naturall heate most disperied, and weakoned, his Romacke most faynt, and his olgettion most flow, and unperfect, of all the other quarters, or featons of the yeare, Es forthe present inclination of the weather this prefent Sommer, I boute that it invitoft tymes varry and differ from that natural condiction about insectice, for we are lyte, by my learning and indigeenent in this art, to have limby moult, yea ann coldette dayes at the beginning hereof, with barke clemes, and variable toyings otherwhyles: which I gather, not oncly by the placing of most of the Planettes in watry and app fignes at the entraunce of the Rewolution, when netwith francing, eol, Luna, Mars, Saturne, and Mercury, are all feated in figno aquoz triplic tatii, that is, tha figne of the water, or colde and mayle tripliciti: but also from feme other more particuler figues, and futitiony argumentes, which I here let palle, as needeks to the conuron Reader. Allo, the Dogdayes this O titt.

this years, which begin about the eville or existing of July, and holde on his eff. dayes after, are lyk, eaccording to some auncient observations, to prove more dangerous for instructives and sickness, then they are commonly wont to be, albeit they are ever suspected as contagious for such accidences. If mally, I suspect that we shall have greater store of lyghtning, then hunder, and more vayne rumors, and sole farmises, then true netues, or certaine eventes sty above this quarter.

The viuali and exdinary bodyly griefes of this fealon, are most kyndes of Agues, but specially i errian Agues, and hot burning Caulous, Opthalmies, or inflammations in the eyes, Lakes and Flures, Coniting, payme in the eares, vicerations of the mouth, madmes, and unquietness of invitoe. Item, this present Sommer I feare me, that the Plague wyll be over buke, and greenous in many places: which God twene from vs., yf it be his gratious wyll, or els graunt vs patience, and amendment of lyke beforehand, that we may be some ready when the Lord shall so visite vs.

Now go to then, and take good heede
Of eatyng much this tyme:
For drynke doth better now then meate,
And botter Ale, then Wine.
And boyled cates preferred are
Fore broylde, and roafted meate:
Brisfly, all coole, and moystenyng foode
Forefuch as dry, or heate.
Walke flowly, auoyde all fodayne change,
And violent exercife:
Vie coolyng Ciothes, and Hearbes, and Bathes,
Let lytle fleepe fuffile.
Let Cupid with his mother goe:
Purge noc, nor open Vayne:
Strew house with Flowers fresh and sweete:

Serue God : no vice may nteyne.

4. Of Autumne, or fall of the Leafe.

Vrumne,02 haruell, otherwyle tearmed the fall of the Leafe. Ache last part, or fourth Quarter of this yeere, according to our Englishe accompt, shall take place with ve the rift, pay of Sentember, being Wednefnay, about, v. a clocke in the moznyngt at which tyme, the Sunne hauring Dispatched the Sommer trine. with the last vegree of Virgo, at his fast ingression into the fast beares of Libra, he the seconde tyme maketh the day and nyothe equall in length, and to mocureth the Aequinoctiall Autumnall: from which tyme, this Quarter is to continue and enduce butpil the. vii. day of December next enfurng, to wit, unto the true trine of the Sumes entraunce into Capricornus.

This tyme of the peere is according to natures operation coulde and dir, quite contrary to the naturall disposition of the Spring, and in respect of the inequality of the temperature thereof, is tearmed of Hyppocrates, the mother or nurse of most deadly and pernicious infirmities. Pow the dayes decrease, and the nyahres increase, now floodies are at the hughest, and fountaines of Springes at the lowest : the face of the Warth loofeth her beautie, Blances and Trees callyng their flower, leaues, and fruites : Byides take their flyaht from ps into hotter Regions, Beaftes betake themselucs to their dennes, and Serventes to their caues : brefely, now both the avie and mans body, are most variable and subject to changes : the one beyignener certaine, or alike long togeather, the other beying more apt to ficknesses, amore uncertagne of health-then in any other forementioned lealen.

The present disposed temperature of this Autumne, well not. I suppose, be unlyke the olde accu tomed qualities thereof, for it shoulde seeme that variable colde and degnes, well interchangeably beare the tway, intermingled one whyle with whylveryng lowe wyndes, another whyle with louve boystercus blastes : one whyle with mystes, and fogges, an other whyle with calme and cleere daves : forne tymes with froftes, and forne tymes with fleete, finew, haple, rayne, and lyke wenterlyke weather. To conclude, we are lyke to have morninges relemblying the face of the Spring, myddayes resemblying the sace of Sommer, and evenyinges resembling the sace of Colinter: to incomfantly, and uncertaintly for the most part, shall the agre be disposed. God graunt that our selves may be otherwise affected and resolved for all matters concerning our become and south is wherein to be beauerying, and irresolved, were the most dangerous, and in trueth damnable estate that ever man stoode in, or may fall into. Let us therefore yay earnedly but our good God, and amende our lynes, with constant persevence unto the ender so shall all thyingesturne to the best for us, so shall no great Confunctions, blazing Starres, or Eclipses, or any other Autological significations of dread and terrour, once offende or molest us.

The proper sicknesses of the tyme, are by the doctrine of Hyppocrates, the father of Phissicke, wantryng and uncertagne Feners, quartane Agues, shutnes of Alynde, twellynges in the Throate, swellinges and barunes of the Holsene, weakenes of the Backe, Consumptions, Pyles, the Henrythoydes, Tympanies, Lienteria, and Dyscenteria, the Sciatica, Rewmes, Congles, and falling Hychnes, mclancholy Passions, Hadnes, allo the Plague, or some mew infectious and contamious visease, not much unlyke the petti-

Int Fever, in dynerie lymptomes, lignes, and respectes.

Aduetherefore you colde raw fruites, Your iuyce corrupteth such As now without due care of health. Do thereof take too much. Health now is helped most, by meates, Wholesappeismoyst, and hot: But vie withall strong exercise, For feare thou get the rotte. Vie Venus as a stranger : keepe Thy head, and feete from colde : . Eate more, but drinke lesse then before: Yet with new wines be not bolde. Olde tweete wines are holfome now, And sometymes Spice doth well. But fyrst and last, serue God : yf thou In health, and peace wouldst dwell.

Such Countries and Regions as are more occidentall or weffwaree then Englande, hall onely fee the myddeff, or endring of this Criple: but we, I boubt met, may (albeit fomewhat hardly) observe even the very entraunce of beginning thereof : for feeing it hall not begin with us unvill viif a clocke, or thereaboutes, by that tyme the Granne being botone and fully ferled under our Dogizon, the Moone thall arrie in the Coas afpet bublemished in the upper part of her hopp, he where profestly boon her whole appearance, the lower parts thereof hall tegin to be oblitired, or barkened, which thall aftertrarbes mere and more increase, untyll, viii. whole digittes or veyntes of her hody be concred with narkeres, which well fall cut about, er. minutes after.iv.a clocke : but prefently after that tyme, the thall begin againe by lysic and lytie to reconer her felfe, untyll it be welnigh, ri, a clocke, when the thall thone agains in her accustomen bryghtnes, and be fully cleaved and bifcharged of the Carthes frabowe betweene her and the Sunne before interpoled. So that from the beginnung to the enting of this Defect, there halbe. iti. whole houres, cethereaboutes : duryng which continuance of tyme, the Darkened partes of the Boone fall appeare blacke, intermirt with palenes, as Cyprianus Leouitius wipteth.

The effectes and workunges of this Ecliple, according to the voctrine of Proclus Lycius (whole juvgement in this cale, all later Aftrologers do blually embrace) thall be many contravicties, farres. quarreis, & fallinges out amongt men : for fuch confequentes, farth he hath the Crivle of the Doone in the first face of Capricorne.

Item, the . bili. Day of December, being Fryday, there halbe from another partile Celiple of the Moone, then placed in the root degree of Germin, a ligne of the averte triplicitie, namely of qualities has and mostly of complexion languine, allo mateuline, bivenall, occidentall, the common, rationall, sterill, being the house of Mercury, and the graftation of the Dragors head.

This Eclipse shall begin with his about, v. of the clocke in the renesping, and increase more and more, butyll a quarter of an houre after, vi. about which tyme shalle the greatest darkness: the Adoone being then bequired of light, to the quantitic almost of halfs her body. But within halfs an houre after, vii, a clocke, she shall be fully eased of this Eclipse, and recover agains, even the whole compasse of the women light, and by ning. The coloures of this Eclipse, Leouicius innameth that fuch Echiples well bears many lamentable and moofull enentes upon the necke. or tayle of this veere: whole invacement byon the Revolution thereof, I have thought good in part to manifest to all such as shall have befire thereof: and chiefly here Inholest T treate of Ectivies, for from such he seemeth to fetch his refrete argumentes, and proofes, of fuch future calamities, & horrors. to the mornes of Leouitius in Englyth, are thefe, It is a thing (fayth 'he) right strange, and woonderfull, that under the Revolution tot this yeere, there shoulde concurre the effectes of foure Eclipses, namely, two Eclipses of the Sunne, and other two of the Moone: which event (fo farre as I can remember) I never read nor heard of before. Therefore fundry tragicall and rufull iffues shall now betyde: which we have more specially declaired in the Revolution preceding from whence you may gather what is lykely this yeere to befall. To conclude, There shall (sayth he) fall much rayne, caufing great ouerflowynges of waters, with many tempestes and shypwrackes, to the great hurt of many Provinces and Cities, situated by the Seatide: also sundry contagious sicknesses wyl growe horand dreadfull in most places.
